FOUR - YEAR UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMME (FYUGP)

I. FYUGP AND ITS KEY FEATURES

The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 recognises that higher education plays an extremely important role in promoting human as well as societal well-being and in developing India as envisioned in its Constitution- a democratic, just, socially conscious, cultured, and humane nation upholding liberty, equality, fraternity, and justice for all. It notes that “given the 21st century requirements, quality higher education must aim to develop good, thoughtful, well-rounded, and creative individuals” and enable an individual to study one or more specialized areas of interest at a deep level, and also develop capabilities across a range of disciplines including sciences, social sciences, arts, humanities, languages, as well as professional, technical, and vocational subjects.

The NEP 2020 envisages the revision of the Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) for instilling innovation and flexibility. It also envisages setting up of facilitative norms for issues, such as credit transfer, equivalence, etc., and moving towards a criterion-based grading system that assesses student achievement based on the learning goals for each programme, and moving away from high-stakes examinations towards more continuous and comprehensive evaluation. The policy supports the establishment of an Academic Bank of Credit (ABC) which would digitally store the academic credits earned from various recognized HEIs so that the degrees from an HEI can be awarded taking into account the credits earned.

The NEP envisages several transformative initiatives in higher education. These include:

- Introducing holistic and multidisciplinary undergraduate education that would help develop all capacities of human beings- intellectual, aesthetic, social, physical, emotional, ethical and moral- in an integrated manner; soft skills, such as complex problem solving, critical thinking, creative thinking, communication skills; and rigorous specialization in a chosen field(s) of learning.
- Adoption of flexible curricular structures in order to enable creative combinations of disciplinary areas for study in multidisciplinary contexts that would also allow flexibility in course options that would be on offer to students, in addition to rigorous specialization in a subject or subject.

- Undergraduate degree programmes of either 3- or 4-year duration, with multiple entry and exit points.
- Reorienting teaching programmes to ensure the development of capabilities across a range of disciplines including sciences, social sciences, arts, humanities, languages, as well as vocational subjects. This would involve offering programmes/courses of study relating to Languages, Literature, Music, Philosophy, Art, Dance, Theatre, Statistics, Pure and Applied Sciences, Sports etc., and other such subjects needed for a multidisciplinary and stimulating learning environment.
- Preparing professionals in cutting-edge areas that are fast gaining prominence, such as Artificial Intelligence (AI), 3-D machining, big data analysis, and machine learning, in addition to genomic studies, biotechnology, nanotechnology, neuroscience, with important applications to health, environment, and sustainable living that will be woven into undergraduate education for enhancing the employability of the youth”.

VII. Structure of Curricular Contents

The proposed FYUGP curriculum consists of Three Broad Parts.

1. Foundation Component
2. Discipline Specific Pathway components (Major/Minor)
3. Discipline-Specific Capstone Components

Foundation Component

General foundation courses are standard for all students. They can be grouped into four major baskets:

- a. Ability Enhancement Courses (AEC),
- b. Skill Enhancement Courses (SEC),
- c. Value-Added Courses (VAC) and
- d. Multi-Disciplinary Courses (MDC).

A brief description of these course baskets is given below.

- a. Ability Enhancement Courses (AEC): These are courses explicitly designed to achieve competency in English (E) and other languages (OL) with particular emphasis on language and communication skills. The courses aim to enable the students to acquire and demonstrate core linguistic skills, including critical reading and expository and academic writing skills. They would also allow students to acquaint themselves with English's cultural and intellectual heritage and the chosen other languages.
- b. Skill Enhancement Courses (SEC): Skills are psychomotor as well as cognitive. They are about the abilities that students develop to perform various tasks. The 4Cs – Creativity, Critical thinking, Communication and Collaboration – are 21st-century skills for students to survive and work in any local or global workplace. So, the focus of the knowledge component shall be encouraging the ability to apply knowledge in real-world situations, enhancing the 4C skills, awareness, and skills for using the most modern and relevant technology for change. Along with this, the development of self-learning skills and lifelong learning skills are also crucial for the students to cope with the ever-changing and demanding work challenges.

- c. Value-Added Courses (VAC): These courses will develop a graduate student's personality, perspective building, and self-awareness. These courses will help the students identify themselves and their true feelings, thoughts, abilities and actions, empowering them to recognise their strengths and give insights to overcome the challenges. As a result, the learner will be able to develop confidence, appropriate mindset and emotional intelligence. Some of the possible courses under this category could be self and identity, theatre, music, sports and games, Indian constitution, Indian society and economy, environment and climate change, gender and social equity, history of thought, NSS/NCC-related activities, IT Skills, diversity and inclusion, ethics and values, the relationship between science, technology and society etc.
- d. Multi-Disciplinary Courses (MDC): These courses broaden students' intellectual experience and build conceptual foundations for the arts, science, commerce, language, and social sciences. All UG students are required to undergo three introductory-level MDCs in any discipline other than their chosen Major and Minor disciplines.

VIII. Discipline-Specific Pathway Components (Major/Minor)

The discipline-specific pathways allow the learner to pursue in-depth study of a particular subject or discipline and develop competency. These pathways include Major courses, Minor courses, and optional courses.

- a. Major Component: The major is the subject that is the main focus of study. The student can conduct an in-depth analysis of a particular topic or discipline by selecting a major. Students may be allowed to change majors within the broad discipline at the end of the second semester by being given sufficient time to explore interdisciplinary courses during the first year. The primary component consists of three types: Discipline-Specific Core (DSC) or Discipline-Specific Elective courses (DSE), research, laboratory, and fieldwork.

- b. Minor Component: It helps the student to gain a border understanding beyond the major discipline. Students can choose courses from disciplinary/interdisciplinary minors and skill-based courses relating to a vocational education programme. Students who take a sufficient number of courses in a discipline or an interdisciplinary area of study other than the chosen major will qualify for a minor in that discipline or the chosen interdisciplinary area of study. After exploring various courses, students may change the minor and vocational stream choice at the end of the second semester.
- c. Discipline-Specific Capstone Components: The capstone-level courses (400-499) allow the students to demonstrate their cumulative knowledge in their field of study. It plays a vital role in preparing students for the world of practical applications with professional knowledge and skills. At this stage, the student will understand how to use appropriate and relevant knowledge to ideas and products. Capstone-level courses include specialised/advanced level topics, internships, community engagement and services, vocational training, professional training, and other work experiences. The various capstone-level components are described below.
- (i) Advanced Major (Specialization) : Advanced major courses include optional courses with a focused area of study attached to a specific major. These courses also include courses on research methodology. These courses will help graduates deepen their knowledge in a particular study area with more focus and direction.
- (ii) Summer Internship / Apprenticeship: This promotes the induction into actual work situations. During the summer term, all students will also undergo internships/ apprenticeships in a firm, industry, organisation, or lab training with faculty and researchers in their own or other HEIs/research institutions. Students will be provided with opportunities for internships with local industry, business organisations, health and allied areas, local governments (such as panchayats and municipalities), parliament or elected representatives, media organisations, artists, craftspersons, and the agricultural sector. Through the internship, students may actively engage with the practical side of their learning and, as a by-product, further improve their employability.

- (iii) Field-Based Learning: It provides opportunities for students to understand the different socio-economic contexts and will aim to expose them to development-related issues in rural and urban settings.
- (iv) Community Engagement and Service : It seeks to expose students to socio-economic issues in society so that theoretical learning can be supplemented by actual life experiences and generate solutions to real-life problems.
- (v) Vocational Education and Training: The ever-changing global scenario makes the world more competitive and requires high levels of lateral thinking and the spirit of entrepreneurship to cope with emerging challenges. Many times, the defined skill sets that are being imparted to students today with programme-specific objectives in our educational institutions become redundant sooner rather than later due to rapid technological advancements. University curricula can only adequately cover some areas of importance or relevance. Higher education institutions must supplement the curriculum to prepare students better to meet industry demands and develop their interests and aptitudes. The vocational and skill enhancement courses provide the necessary skills to increase employability and equip students with essential skills to succeed. The main objectives of the skill enhancement and vocational courses are to provide students with an understanding of the expectations of industry, to improve the employability skills of students, to bridge the skill gaps and make students industry-ready, to provide an opportunity for developing inter disciplinary skills, and to mould the students as job providers rather than job seekers.
- (vi) Research Projects: Students choosing a 4-year Bachelor's degree (Honours with Research) must take up research projects of 12 credits under the guidance of a faculty member having Ph.D Degree. The students are expected to be involved in original research. They shall investigate specific research questions, gather data, analyse findings, draw conclusions and submit a detailed report for final evaluation and defence. The research outcomes of their project work may be published in peer-reviewed journals, presented at conferences/seminars, and patented.
- (vii) Other Activities: This component will include participation in activities related to the National Service Scheme (NCC), National Cadet Corps (NCC), adult education/literacy initiatives, mentoring school students, and other similar activities.

IX. Course Participation/Attendance. -

The following are the provisions relating to Course participation, -

1. A student shall be permitted to register for the end-semester evaluation of a specific course to acquire the credits only if he has completed 75% of the prescribed classroom activities in physical, online, or blended modes, including any makeup activities as specified by the faculty of that particular course.

XIII. Degree, Honours Degree and Honours Degree with Research

The four-year undergraduate program offers three options for students, suitable for their plans and interests. The possibilities are a Three-Year UG Degree, a Four Year Honours Degree, and a Four-Year Honours with a Research Degree.

- a) Three-year UG Degree: Students who wish to exit after three years of a four-year degree programme will be awarded a UG Degree in the Major discipline after completing three years, securing a specific number of credits (133 or above) and satisfying the minimum course requirement as given in tables. Those students can do a group project with an extra two credits to obtain research experience in discipline specific areas of the program. The BoS can decide the number of students for the group and the evaluation criteria.
- b) Four-year UG Degree (Honours): A four-year UG Honours degree in the major discipline will be awarded to those who complete a four-year degree programme with the specific number of credits (177 or above) and satisfy the minimum course requirement as given in tables. To acquire an Honours Degree, the student shall pursue at least three courses in their major subject in the VII semester. This enables them to obtain in-depth knowledge in one of the subject areas. Students shall be allowed to pursue three courses (12 credits) from suitable interdisciplinary/transdisciplinary/multidisciplinary/ vocational areas of their choice. Students shall be allowed to choose two online courses/courses from other institutions (eligible for credit transfer) in their major area of study (with a course level of 400 or above) in the VIII semester. Students may be encouraged to do a project in their VIII Semester. Those students who are not doing the project shall do three courses, online or offline, for 12 credits or an internship of 15 weeks. These three courses shall be selected from a pool of courses approved by the Board of Studies.

- c) Four-year UG Degree (Honours with Research): Students highly motivated to opt for research as their career can choose honours with a research stream in the fourth year. The student who secures a minimum of 177 credits, including 12 credits from a research project/dissertation, is awarded a UG Degree (Honours with Research).
- d) Fast track Mode: Students can choose a fast track to complete the degree/ Honours programme in N-1 semesters. The additional credits required to complete the course in N-1 semesters shall be acquired every semester subject to a maximum of 28 credits per semester, including 21-24 credits, which varies with each semester from the parent institution. However, the maximum number of credits in a six-semester degree is limited to 150 credits and 200 credits for eight semesters in Honours Degree. The student shall select courses from a pool of courses approved by the Board of Studies.
- e) Minimum Eligibility Criteria for Implementing UG Honours with Research
- The Post Graduate /Research Departments can offer Four Year Honours with Research as an optional pathway along with the Four-Year Honours Programme, which is mandatory subject to the fulfilment of other conditions
 - The Departments which are recognised as Research Centers may conduct a 4-year UG Degree (Honours with Research) without obtaining any further approval
 - The colleges having the Post Graduate Programmes may start the 4-year UG Honours with Research Degree in their sanctioned UG Programmes with at least two permanent faculty members with PhD and other eligibility conditions stipulated by UGC/ University for research guideship in the respective departments with a prior sanction from the University.
 - If a recognised Department loses permanent faculty with a Ph. D., it will not be eligible to offer the programme until faculty with the required qualifications are recruited.
 - After successfully completing all the first VI semesters from the same institution, the students obtaining a CGPA equivalent to 75% marks and above may opt for Honours with Research Degree in the VII & VIII Semester. A relaxation of 0.5 score, i.e. CGPA of 7/10 or an equivalent relaxation of grade may be allowed for those belonging to SC/ST/OBC (non-creamy layer)/Differently Abled, Economically Weaker Section (EWS) and other categories of candidates as per the decision of the UGC from time to time.

- Admission shall be based on the criteria notified by the Institution, keeping in view the guidelines/norms issued by the UGC and other statutory bodies concerned and taking into account the government's reservation policy from time to time.
- The number of seats in a specialisation area depends upon the number of faculty members with PhD degrees. No more than five students shall be allotted to eligible faculty at any time. Based on this, the department's maximum intake may be fixed.
- Eligible students who pursue the first three years in a college shall automatically be promoted to the fourth year of a four-year Degree programme. The total intakes of the Honours program plus the Honours with Research programme shall not exceed the total sanctioned seats of the UG programme, including the marginal increase, if any.
- Suppose a more significant number of eligible students opt for the Honours with Research programme than the number of available seats. In that case, the allotment shall be based on the existing rules of reservations and merits.
- Infrastructure facilities like libraries, access to journals, computer labs and software, laboratory facilities for experimental research work, and any other requirements of the University shall be provided to the students.
- Admissions to the 4th year of FYUGP Honours with Research Degree shall commence only after the VI semester results are declared.
- Students may be admitted depending on the number of available Research Supervisors and other academic, research, and infrastructural facilities available, keeping in mind the norms regarding the student-teacher ratio, laboratory, library, and other facilities.
- Colleges shall inform the affiliating university of vacancies in their programmes only after admitting their students. The affiliating university shall fill such vacancies with students from other colleges, following the rule of reservation and merit.
- The affiliating colleges that do not have research centres fulfil the eligibility conditions and intend to offer 4th year of FYUGP Honours with Research Degree Programme, which need to apply to the affiliating university. After preliminary scrutiny of the application and the documents submitted by the institution, the deficiencies if the university shall intimate any. Subject to rectifying defects and after the inspection of instructional and infrastructural requirements by the inspection committee, permission shall be granted to Honours with the Research Programme. Implementation of Honours with Research programmes

- A student admitted for Honours with Research shall pursue at least three courses in their major subject in level 400 or above. This enables them to acquire in-depth knowledge in one of the subject areas.
- The student shall take five research methodology/area-specific courses, 3 of which will be Research Discipline-Specific Courses.
- Two research methodology courses may be online and familiar to all disciplines.
- Students choosing FYUGP (Honours with Research) must take up research projects under the guidance of a faculty member. The students shall have to complete the Research project in the VIII semester (total of 12 credits)

XIV. Academic Levels of Pathway Courses

The pathway Courses shall be coded based on the learning outcomes, difficulty levels, and academic rigour. The coding structure is as follows.

1. 0 – 99: Prerequisite courses for a foundation / introductory course. They will be pass or fail courses with no credits. They will replace the informal way of offering bridge courses in some colleges or universities.
2. 100 – 199: Foundation or Introductory courses are intended for students to gain an understanding and basic knowledge about the subjects and to help them decide on the topic or discipline of interest. These courses may also be prerequisites for courses in the major subject. These courses generally focus on foundational theories, concepts, perspectives, principles, methods, and procedures for critical thinking to provide a broad basis for taking up more advanced courses. These courses seek to equip students with the general education needed for advanced study and further expose students to the breadth of different fields of study. These courses may also be prerequisites for courses in the major and minor subjects. Students of FYUGP may opt for a minimum of 24 credits at this level. These courses are taught in semesters 1 and 2 of FYUGP.
3. 200 – 299: Intermediate-level courses, including discipline-specific courses, intended to meet the credit requirements for Major and Minor areas of learning.

These courses can be part of a Major and prerequisite courses for advanced-level Major courses. Students of FYUGP may opt for a minimum of 32 credits at this level. These courses are taught in semesters 3 and 4 of FYUGP.

4. 300 - 399: Higher-level courses required for majoring in a disciplinary/interdisciplinary area of study for the award of a degree. These courses can be part of the Major pathway and prerequisite courses for advanced-level Major courses. Students of FYUGP may opt for a minimum of 38 credits at this level, including two credits for an internship. These courses are taught in semesters 5 and 6 of FYUGP.
 5. 400 - 499: Advanced courses/ capstone level courses, which would include taught courses with practicum, first-year postgraduate degree level courses, seminar-based courses, term papers, research methodology, advanced lab experiments, software training, capstone projects, research projects, hands-on training, internship/apprenticeship projects at the undergraduate level etc. Students of FYUGP may opt for a minimum of 44 credits at this level, out of which eight credits can be of the level 300-399 if they are Minor pathway courses. These courses are taught in semesters 7 and 8 of FYUGP.

THE PLEDGE

India is my country. All Indians are my brothers and sisters. I love my country and I am proud of its rich and varied heritage. I shall always strive to be worthy of it. I shall give my parents, teachers and all elders respect and treat everyone with courtesy. To my country and my people, I pledge my devotion. In their well-being and prosperity alone lies my happiness.
